RWWA PRIVACY POLICY

Racing and Wagering Western Australia (RWWA) is established under the Racing and Wagering Western Australia Act 2003. Being a state authority RWWA is specifically excluded from the provisions of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and as such, RWWA is not bound by the National Privacy Principles. Notwithstanding this, RWWA understands that its customers value their privacy and expect their affairs to be kept confidential.

On this basis, RWWA's policy is to respect the confidentiality of customer information except where disclosure of the information is-

- Required or authorised under a written law;
- Required to be accessed by authorised persons in connection with any investigation or other action conducted under the rules of racing;
- Made for marketing or product development purposes and does not allow an individual customer to be identified; or
- In RWWA's opinion, necessary in order to prevent or minimise loss, damage or injury to RWWA or any other person.
