DISTRIBUTION ANNOUNCEMENT

Racing and Wagering Western Australia (RWAA) will be providing $180 million in funding, grants and strategic initiatives to the State's racing industry for the 2020/21 season.

RWAA is focused on delivering initiatives that will maximise returns and allow for the sustainable advancement of greyhound racing in WA.

In alignment with these objectives, RWAA has committed a $3.9 million increase in distribution for the greyhound code within the 2020/21 season, with the following commitments:

- $1.85 million for track enhancements to elevate existing racing welfare standards.
- $1 million boost in prizemoney for provincial and country stakes to commence from 25 September 2020, to increase returns to owners and trainers.
- $970,000 towards additional club and vision funding to accommodate the full season of Sunday racing.
- $81,000 to the greyhound track injury rebate, full recovery, dental and sterilisation schemes.

In an effort to grow interest and revenue streams for the WA racing industry, $1 million of the additional funding will also go towards the development of a digital platform to promote the State's racing product. The platform will provide customers with easy access to all relevant information about WA racing.

RWAA remains committed to implementing strategic funding initiatives, with a strong emphasis on ownership and participation, commercial competitiveness and animal welfare.

With the impact of COVID-19 during the last season, it is important that we provide you, as a valued participant, with the confidence to continue to invest in the WA racing industry.

RWAA has also committed to conducting a mid-year review in January 2021 for race clubs to ascertain the impact COVID-19 has had on each individual club. Once we receive each club's annual reports, RWAA will be able to better understand the full impact COVID-19 has had on club finances, and address any required support.

PRIZEMONEY INCREASE BREAKDOWN

As part of the 2020/21 distribution increase and to complement the growth strategy for the greyhound code, Provincial & Country races across all distance ranges have received an approximate 10% increase.

The only City class race to be increased is City class Maidens.

The new stake money tables have been included in this edition for your reference.

NEW FEATURE RACES IN 2020/21

As part of the 2020/21 racing season 2 new feature races have been added.

They are the Dart and the Good Friday Cup.

The Dart will be an Open class 275m series held at Cannington in early December.

The Good Friday Cup will be a Listed 405m feature held at Mandurah with the final on Good Friday.

FINISH ON LURE RACE MEETINGS

The following upcoming meetings will be scheduled as Finish On Lure meetings:

Cannington Wednesday 16 September
Cannington Wednesday 30 September
Cannington Wednesday 14 October
Cannington Wednesday 28 October
Cannington Wednesday 11 November

Qualifying Trials will remain as Catching Pen finishes.

NOTICE TO TRAINERS RE APPROVED PRODUCTS FOR OESTRUS SUPPRESSION IN FEMALE GREYHOUNDS

Trainers are advised there have been reports of a current shortage of supply of approved oestrus suppression veterinary product ethyloestrenol (Orabolin) due to COVID related import delays.

Norethisterone (Primolut) is an alternate approved product for oestrus suppression in female greyhounds.

Norethisterone is a prescription medicine and as such trainers should contact their veterinarian for any inquiries.

More information regarding the approval of norethisterone within the greyhound rules of racing can be found here;

<https://www.rwaa.com.au/wp-content/uploads/2019/05/Notice-Norethisterone-to-be-added-as-an-exempted-substance-for-oestrous-control-in-greyhounds.pdf>

FROM THE RACING MANAGER

MILLION DOLLAR CHASE – PARTICIPATION OF INTERSTATE GREYHOUNDS

Greyhound Welfare and Integrity Commission ("GWIC") has today announced the protocols that will be applied to all interstate greyhounds that are planning to compete in the Million Dollar Chase ("MDC") series.

These protocols will be bought in so that the Commission can regulate the movement of greyhounds intending to participate in the upcoming MDC series.

The GWIC Million Dollar Chase interstate greyhound protocols are as follows:

1. From 28 August 2020, the Commission requires that all interstate trainers and/or owners with any greyhound that they intend to transfer to a New South Wales ("NSW") registered trainer in order to nominate that greyhound for any event in the MDC series, including any supporting advertised Feature events, complete a "Million Dollar Chase – Interstate Trainer Transfer" form prior to the transfer occurring.

2. This form is to be provided at least three (3) business days before the transfer, or intended transfer, of the greyhound to a NSW registered trainer; and
3. The notification must be made through the attached MDC notification form, and is to be sent via email to registration@gwic.nsw.gov.au; and
4. A kennel notification must also be submitted within three (3) business days of the greyhound coming into the custody of a NSW registered trainer receiving the greyhound/s.

QUALIFYING TRIALS

All Qualifying Trials are conducted prior to the first race at the respective race meetings, unless otherwise advertised. The number of Qualifying Trials drawn may vary depending on the number of races drawn and the number of spare kennel bays.

Should nomination numbers warrant, consideration may be given to conducting trials on the backup days of Thursday (Mandurah) and Saturday (Cannington) utilizing surplus nominations. Alternatively a stand-alone Qualifying Trial session may be considered.

GREYHOUND INDUSTRY NOTICE

Greyhound Industry Notice – Maximum of five lifetime litters to apply to Greyhound Breeding Females

The attention of licensed greyhound breeders is drawn to the following notification.

The Western Australian State government has introduced the Standards and Guidelines for the Health and Welfare of Dogs in Western Australia (Dog Standards and Guidelines).

These Dog Standards and Guidelines establishes minimum requirements and recommended practices to protect and promote the welfare of dogs.

The full document can be found at the following link.

<https://www.agric.wa.gov.au/animalwelfare/standards-and-guidelines-health-and-welfare-dogs-wa-0>

Attention is drawn to the Standard 15.2 (S15.2) on page 23 of the document which states;

S15.2 A breeder must not use a bitch to produce more than:

- (a) two litters in any eighteen month period; and
- (b) five litters before the dog is retired from breeding

Accordingly notice is given that from the date of this notification, Racing and Wagering Western Australia will not approve any future application to breed from a female greyhound that has already had the maximum of five lifetime litters.

Introduction

The Centre for Applied Statistics (CAS) of the University of Western Australia (UWA) was contacted by Mark Bottcher (Greyhound System Coordinator & Analyst – Project Delivery) from Racing and Wagering Western Australia (RWWA) and asked to perform a statistical analysis of results from actual greyhounds races in various Australian states and territories (NSW, NT, QLD, SA, TAS and WA) in which RWWA's box draw algorithm was used. This box draw algorithm is supposed to randomly allocate, for a given race, the greyhounds that run in the race to the boxes that are used in the race, such that each greyhound is equally likely to be allocated to any of the boxes used.

Specific questions of interest are whether there is any evidence in the data that the box draw algorithm does not perform as designed when looking at:

1. the allocation of individual greyhounds to boxes over all the races that they ran in,
2. the allocation of the greyhound(s) of any owner to boxes over all races in which that owner had greyhound(s) running,
3. the allocation of the greyhound(s) of any trainer to boxes over all races in which that trainer had greyhound(s) running, and
4. the allocation of greyhounds trained by the same trainer to neighbouring boxes, if a trainer had multiple greyhounds in the same race.

The analysis was proposed to be done for each state and territory separately. The following section will describe the methodology used to analyse the data followed by the results of the analyses for each state and territory in Section 3. A summary conclusion from all these analyses is given in Section 4.

Results

3.1 Races in Western Australia

3.1.1 Allocation of individual greyhounds

The analysis of the actual overall allocation of greyhounds to boxes provided no evidence against the assumption that in every race every greyhound is equally likely to be assigned to any one of the boxes used ($p_{all} = 0.014$). Analysing each individual greyhound's allocation to boxes, taking into account that this involves the analysis of 4,680 p -values by either using a 1% significance level with a Bonferroni correction or controlling the false discovery rate at 1%, provided no evidence that the box allocation of any individual greyhound was suspicious. Analysing the 1,344 p -values for the subset of greyhounds that started in at least 40 races yielded the same result, i.e. no evidence was found that the assumption, that each greyhound is equally likely to be assigned to any one of the boxes used in races in which the greyhound ran, is not tenable.

3.1.2 Allocation of greyhounds by owner

The analysis of the actual overall allocation of greyhounds owned by the same owner to boxes provided no evidence against the assumption that in every race every greyhound is equally likely to be assigned to any one of the boxes used ($p_{all} = 0.131$). Analysing for each individual owner the allocation of his or her greyhound(s) to boxes, taking into account that this involves the analysis of 1,897 p -values by either using a 1% significance level with a Bonferroni correction or controlling the false discovery rate at 1%, provided no evidence that the box allocation of greyhound(s) belonging to the same owner was suspicious for any of the owners. Analysing the 719 p -values for the subset of owners who had greyhounds starting at least 40 times yielded the same result, i.e. no evidence was found that the assumption, that the greyhound(s) of any owner is/are equally likely to be assigned to any of the boxes used in races in which the greyhound(s) ran, is not tenable.

3.1.3 Allocation of greyhounds by trainer

The analysis of the actual overall allocation of greyhounds trained by the same trainer to boxes provided no evidence against the assumption that in every race every greyhound is equally likely to be assigned to any one of the boxes used ($p_{all} = 0.483$). Analysing for each individual trainer the allocation of his or her greyhound(s) to boxes, taking into account that this involves the analysis of 229 p -values by either using a 1% significance level with a Bonferroni correction or controlling the false discovery rate at 1%, provided no evidence that the box allocation of greyhound(s) trained by the same trainer was suspicious for any of the trainers. Analysing the 158 p -values for the subset of trainers who had greyhounds starting at least 40 times yielded the same result, i.e. no evidence was found that the assumption, that the greyhound(s) of any trainer is/are equally likely to be assigned to any of the boxes used in races in which the greyhound(s) ran, is not tenable.

3.1.4 Allocation of greyhounds to neighbouring boxes

Of the 18,083 races in the spreadsheet, 14,630 were races with 8 runners and in 7,491 of those at least one trainer had exactly two greyhounds running. Altogether there were 144 trainer IDs involved and 9,642 cases in which trainers had exactly two greyhounds running in a race.

The analysis of the overall contingency table provided no evidence against the hypothesis that allocation mechanism works as it is designed to do ($p_{all} = 0.636$). Analysing the results for individual trainers, taking into account that this involves the analysis of 144 p -values by either using a 1% significance level with a Bonferroni correction or controlling the false discovery rate at 1%, provided no evidence that any trainer has his or her two greyhounds allocated more often to neighbouring boxes than what would be expected under the allocation mechanism. Analysing the 74 p -values for the subset of trainers who have exactly two greyhounds starting in at least 20 races yielded the same result, i.e. no evidence was found that the assumption, that the two greyhounds of any trainer are equally likely to be assigned to any of the 8 boxes, is not tenable.

Conclusions

RWWA's box draw algorithm is supposed to allocate, in any given race, the participating greyhounds to boxes in such a manner that each greyhound is equally likely to be assigned to any of the employed boxes. The summary conclusion from all the analyses reported in Section 3 is that there is no evidence in the data to suggest that RWWA's box algorithm does not work as designed when analysing the data with respect to

- the allocation of individual greyhounds to boxes over all the races that they ran in,
- the allocation of the greyhound(s) of any owner to boxes over all races in which that owner had greyhound(s) running,
- the allocation of the greyhound(s) of any trainer to boxes over all races in which that trainer had greyhound(s) running, and
- the allocation of greyhounds trained by the same trainer to neighbouring boxes, if a trainer had two greyhounds in the same race.
